COURSE DESCRIPTION

HM 250 Supervision in the Hospitality Industry

This course teaches the skills that can help you develop effective supervision and management skills that are essential to success in the industry. Topics include how to recruit, select, and train; increase productivity; control labor costs; communicate effectively; manage conflict and change; and use time management techniques. Resources on creating a professional development plan for your hospitality career can help you set the direction for future educational and professional endeavors.

HM 281 Hospitality Facilities Management and Design

This course covers all major facility systems, including food service equipment and design. Non-engineers can learn how to understand and speak the language of suppliers and maintenance/engineering staff. You'll also learn techniques to reduce expenses and increase efficiency, and learn how the latest technology can streamline operations.

HM 333 Managing Front Office Operations

This course presents a systematic approach to front office procedures by detailing the flow of business through a hotel, from the reservations process to check-out and account settlement. The course also examines the various elements of effective front office management, paying particular attention to the planning and evaluation of front office operations and to human resources management. Front office procedures and management are placed within the context of the overall operation of a hotel.

HM 338 Managing Housekeeping Operations

This course provides a thorough overview, from the big picture of hiring and retaining a quality staff, planning, and organizing, to the technical details for cleaning each area of the hotel. Practical information from industry experts makes the contents of this course immediately applicable to your job situation.

HM 349 Managing Service in Food and Beverage Operations

This course will give students an understanding of the management process in food and beverage operations. All aspects of food and beverage operations are covered, including organization, marketing, menus, costs and pricing, production, service, safety, and finances.

HM 387 Security and Loss Prevention Management

This course provides the background you need to be informed about the security issues and practices that affect your property every day. Topics include the physical security of the property, asset protection, guest protection, security equipment, emergency management and procedures, OSA requirements, and more. Exhibits, sample forms and documents, and links to safety and security web sites make this course practical and relevant.

HM 498 Co-op Placement

As an integral part of the Hospitality Management Co-op Diploma, the Co-op is designed not only to provide a period of productive employment in the Canadian workplace, but also enables students to apply classroom theory and skills within that authentic environment. Students will experience real-world business practices and the new perspectives gained from their employment will more adequately prepare them enter their chosen career path. Students will be able to perform multifaceted business functions in occupational areas such as Front Desk Management, Housekeeping, and Food and Beverage Management. Students must submit a reflective task assignment after completion of required Co-op hours.
